

Nikkos Rose

Software Developer

111 Palm Street

Central Islip, NY, 11722

(347) 988-6291

nikkosjrose@gmail.com / <https://github.com/NikkosASC4>

Young, adaptable and enthusiastic developer driven to create powerful and Influential tools and software

EXPERIENCE

All Star Code, Remote — Teaching Assistant

JUNE 2020 - PRESENT

- Supported the Lead Instructor in teaching a class of 20 young Black and Latino high school students at the Goldman Sachs cohort.
- Lead hour-long office hours and interacted one-on-one with students to enhance their understanding of the curriculum.
- Evaluated and tracked the quantitative and qualitative progress of all of the students.

Reddit, Remote — Annotation Contractor

MAY 2020 - AUGUST 2020

- Categorized and evaluated subreddits in cordance of MPAA ratings.
- Assisted with the creation of new features in the Reddit application.

EDUCATION

University at Buffalo, Buffalo, NY

AUGUST 2018 - PRESENT

- Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, Expected in June 2022
- Activities: National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) Member, UB Association for Computing Machinery(UB ACM), and Boxing Club

All Star Code, New York, NY

JULY 2017 - AUGUST 2017

- Member of the Bond Collective sponsored cohort for a six-week summer intensive to learn the foundations of computer science (including HTML, CSS, and Javascript), along with core skill components (resume, mock interviewing, networking) for a career in computer science.

SKILLS

Languages

- Javascript, HTML/CSS, Python, Scala

Software

- Adobe Photoshop/After-Effects, Sony Vegas 12, Microsoft Office Suite, Windows

Projects

streetwearConnect 2017

- Uses the Mapbox API to visualize a world map to navigate around the globe, while using HTML/CSS to create a user interface to locate popular physical locations of “streetwear” brands.

Interests

- Software development, reading, writing, drawing, skating, boxing, television, fashion